PRESS RELEASE

LAUNCHING OF THE CAPITAL MARKET'S UNIVERSITIES AND OTHER HIGHER LEARNING INSITUTIONS CHALLENGE 2020

1. Background Information

As part of implementation of strategies for National Financial inclusion Framework 2018 – 2022 for capital markets development in Tanzania, the Capital Markets and Securities Authority (CMSA) conducts a Capital Markets Universities and Higher Learning Institutions Challenge (CMUHLIC), a competition that is open to Scholars in Universities and Other Higher Learning Institutions in Tanzania.

The primary objective of the challenge is to increase financial inclusion and literacy for students in higher learning institutions by testing their knowledge and understanding on issues related to capital markets. It also tests their ability to apply their knowledge of capital markets to real life situations. This initiative is targeted to the youth as an important group in the upper age bracket of the population which has been left out on issues related to investments.

The challenge has been gaining popularity since it was launched in 2014/2015 financial year when it registered 2,000, in financial year 2015/16 registered 7,500 students whereas in 2016/17 the number increased to 7,901, in 2017/18 and 2018/19 has increased to 15,004 and 16,275 students respectively raising a big interest from the scholars to participate in the coming years. The number of participants has been increasing annually; to date a total of 48,680 students have participated in the Challenge, through use of digital technology in particular mobile telephone short messages (SMS) and web based platforms, facilitating immensely for the massive outreach.

The goal for the year 2020 which is the 5th year of conducting the challenge is to reach 16,000 scholars which will enable surpassing the target of reaching out to 60,000 scholars for the period of 5 years. This increase in numbers over the years shows growing participants interest in this competition and thus enabled the CMSA to realize the objectives of conducting the challenge which are, among others, to create awareness and enhance knowledge about capital markets and commodity exchanges among the students in the universities and other higher learning institutions, increase participation in the securities markets by encouraging a culture of savings and investments and broaden the country’s securities markets investor base by creating awareness among students and other potential investors. The objectives are consistent with the initiatives under the capital markets financial inclusion strategies that feed into the National

CMSA is launching the University Challenge awareness program for 2020 to inculcate financial and capital markets literacy amongst Scholars in universities and other higher learning institutions, through quiz and essay competition.

The experience from the past year’s participation has registered increased interest and awareness of capital markets to the Scholars of higher learning institutions. The top winners of the competition have demonstrated notable competence in aspects of capital markets, self-confidence and exposure that has enabled them secure employment opportunities in different institutions including top consulting and advisory firms who are also active stakeholders in the capital markets industry.

Capitalizing on the knowledge imparted on the students who are participating in the challenge, part of the prizes for the winners of the university challenge is used to invest in the capital markets. The target is to turn all participating students in the challenge into real investors in the capital markets and inculcate savings and investment culture which will enable them create self-employment among other benefits.

CMSA plans to roll out awareness program to other groupings including women groups as a way of preparing future leaders and investors on the opportunities and benefits of participating in the capital markets. In addition, participation in crowd pulling events, exhibitions, preparation of television and radio programs targeting general public and organization of various seminars, workshops and office to office talks targeting specific user groups will remain among priority activities to enable CMSA attain the set target for increased capital markets inclusion under the national financial inclusion framework for 2018 -2022.
